Re: Appointment of Assistant Dean, Academic HR and Diversity

It is with great pleasure that I announce the appointment of Lisa Simpson-Camilleri to the position of Assistant Dean, Academic HR and Diversity, starting September 15, 2008. Lisa has been with the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering for over 15 years and brings a wealth of knowledge and rich understanding of both the Faculty and of the University of Toronto to this important new position. Currently Lisa is the Associate Director of Development where she has provided leadership and support to the Faculty's fundraising and donor recognition activities since 2006. Previously, Lisa held the position of Director, Office of the Dean, providing senior-level management support in the areas of internal operations, planning, staffing and external relations. Prior to her assignment in the Dean's Office, Lisa was the Director of the Professional Experience Year Program from 1997 to 2002, and Administrative Assistant, Office of the Vice-Dean, from 1993 to 1997. She received her BA from the University of Toronto.

Please join me in congratulating Lisa on her new position and thanking her for her continued hard work and dedication to the Faculty.
